

Scholars at Risk

Wednesday, April 20, 12:30-1:30pm.

Register: <https://ucsd.zoom.us/j/90123456789>

Professor Fayyaz Baqir

"Humility as the key to peace, prosperity, and progress: Reflections on Aga Khan Rural Support Programme's work in Pakistan"

Social Transformation in Pakistan

The art and science of linking with the 'other'

Fayyaz Baqir (ed.)

Fayyaz Baqir has researched, taught, and lectured at various universities in Europe and North America. His professional and academic interests include participatory development, human rights, aid effectiveness, poverty alleviation, and social accountability. He served as Senior Advisor on the Civil Society for the United Nations in Pakistan. He received the Top Contributors Award from the UNDP's Global Poverty Reduction Network in 2007 and 2008. He has authored numerous journal articles, conference papers, book chapters, training manuals, and books on participatory development, inclusive governance, and poverty alleviation.

*The Vivian G. Prins Scholars at Risk Speaker Series
Sponsored by the International Institute, Human Rights Program, Scholars at Risk, UCSD chapter*